

Our Value for Autumn 2 is: Respect

What is Respect?

General Interpretation

Respect can mean simply treating each other with politeness and courtesy, and recognising that everyone's contribution is important and that everyone's feelings should be considered. Respecting someone does not mean that we always agree with the other person but that we are prepared to listen and share our views without rudeness or impatience.

Christian Interpretation

Christians believe that we all God's people and that we all matter. Respect involves taking responsibility for each other and interacting with others in a courteous manner; it is about valuing everyone and celebrating our differences. Christians recognise that respect needs to start with respect for ourselves and our own unique contribution to our homes, schools or communities. Having self-respect also means celebrating and nurturing our talents so that we the best we can be.

'So in everything, do to others what you would have them do to you' Matthew 7:12

Spirituality at Castle Camps

In Collective Worship we use the language of 'Windows, Mirrors and Doors' to help support the spiritual development of the school community.

Our model for Spiritual Development
 Windows – Learning about life Look outwards. Learn.	We give children opportunities to become aware of the world in new ways; to wonder about life's ' Wows ' (things that are amazing and unexplainable as to why they evoke such a response) and ' Ows ' (things that upset us and cause us to be uncertain). In this, our children are learning about life in all its fullness.
 Mirrors – Learning from life Look inwards. Reflect. Ask questions.	We give children opportunities to reflect on their experiences; to meditate and reflect on life's big questions and to consider some possible answers. In this, they are learning from life by exploring their own insights and perspectives and those of others.
 Doors – Learning to live life Respond. Step out. Live our values.	We give children opportunity to respond to all of this; to do something creative as a means of expressing, applying and further developing their thoughts and convictions. In this they are learning to live by putting into action what they are coming to believe and value.

I wonder how the things that you learn and do now might help you to achieve your aims in life? We are going to think of an important figure in the Bible whose early life helped to shape who he would later become. There are some images of David that you might use as clues that you can search on the internet. Using less familiar ones and building to things more likely to be recognised might work. Alternatively, you could give a fact file item by item or interview someone in role play using information like this: Address? Look at some book covers that do not necessarily help you to know much about the book – I wonder if you know what this book is about or what it will be like by looking at the cover? I wonder how we would find out if we are right? Perhaps we should not always judge a book by its cover. There is a verse in our Bible passage today that says something similar, People look at the outside of a person, but the Lord looks at the heart 1 Sam 16:7 The story about David today is all about not judging by appearances – use an appropriate Bible version: https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=g9Obyj-BPWE Dear God We thank you for surprises and how you look at our hearts and not what we look like. We are told he played the harp and was an accomplished musician. I wonder what are your favourite songs? I wonder what type of songs you like best and what are the main themes of these songs? (you could play music with different sorts of 'moods and talk about them). The songs (Psalms) that David wrote also had different moods and themes – some praise God (eg Psalm 150), some ask God for help and guidance (eg Psalm 119), others talk about what God is like (eg Psalm 93), some ask questions about our part in the world (Psalm 139). I wonder why David wrote this one? Remembrance Service PEACEMAKING Matthew 5:9 Find appropriate images as suggested to think about marking Remembrance Sunday Image of poppy/poppies: I wonder what you think of when you see these? For most of us, it will be 'Poppy Day' or more correctly, Remembrance (Armistice) Day – when across the world, the nations remember the many acts of courage, selflessness and service of those who fought in past wars, and those who are still doing so. We choose to remember in this way as an act of gratitude. Image of WW1 as appropriate: Since the end of the Great War (also known as WW1) in 1918, which people said was the 'war to end all wars', poppies have become a symbol for this act of remembering and being thankful. Image of War Memorial: Our peace was won at a very great cost, which is why on Remembrance Day each year, we hear the words 'At the going down of the sun, and in the morning, we will remember them', as we think of those who gave so much so that we might live at peace.... Words of Jesus Jesus once talked about being a 'peacemaker' – and that our world would need people who would be prepared to act in ways that would bring peace – which is perhaps not what you're expecting to hear as	THE PEACE PRAYER Matthew 5:9 The Peace Prayer was written by Satish Kumar and adopted by the Prayer for Peace Movement in 1981. It is used peoples of different faiths across the world. There is a Week of Prayer for World Peace in October and a World Peace Day as well. It is also an appropriate focus for the week when we focus on Remembrance Sunday. I wonder if you can think of some sets of opposites? We are thinking about a prayer with some opposites within in today. The Peace Prayer: Lead me from Death to Life From Falsehood to Truth Lead me from Despair to Hope From Fear to Trust From War to Peace Let Peace fill our heart, our world, our universe I wonder how the world might be a better place if we could move it from one set of the opposites to the other? I wonder what the world would look like then? I wonder how a world like this would honour those who gave their lives in the cause of peace? Give time to reflect on these words and use the prayer as part of your worship.	PEACE AND FORGIVENESS Matthew 18: 21-35 As during and following war, true peace often demands forgiveness. Use - Large clear vases filled with water - Soluble vitamin tablets (or paint) that cause the water to change colour Find a story or tell a personal anecdote about when you or someone else needed to forgive another person. I wonder why forgiveness was needed in this story/anecdote? I wonder how the people felt after forgiveness had been offered and accepted? Read the Bible passage about what Jesus said about forgiveness. Sometimes people do and say things to hurt us on purpose. Sometimes they don't mean it, but it hurts anyway. Forgiveness is hard. Watch this tablet dissolve into the water – if we offer and accept forgiveness, it can be like this process. Encourage the pupils to watch until the tablet has completely dissolved. As the water changes colour, it's a reminder that actions often have consequences and that the consequences may go on even after the person has been forgiven. Forgiveness itself may need to be an ongoing, conscious process. However, forgiving and being forgiven is often an important part of feeling at peace in	Hymns linked to Collective Worship themes	Children in Need Day CELEBRATE James 2:14-17 Children in Need is also marked today and you may be taking part in this – remembering and responding to the needs of others who need your help. https://www.bbcchildreninneed.co.uk/ Remember that not all children feel safe or at peace in their lives. Take time to give thanks for those who respond with care, kindness and compassion in our school, your community and the wider world to make sure that all children can feel a sense of peace and happiness.

we've been thinking about the great cost of war! I wonder if you can think of practical ideas through which you can be a good peacemaker? WE ALL NEED FRIENDS I Samuel 19:1-10 Talk about the image: I wonder what is happening here? I wonder if you have ever seen anyone who is on their own? Sometimes people choose to be on their own: why might they make that choice? But would there be another reason that they are on their own? I wonder how we would know the difference? How does it feel to be left out? Why do people leave others out? Why do people choose not to help if they see someone who is left out?  One of the things that happened to David was that King Saul tried to isolate him and leave him out because he knew that God had chosen David as the next king. Saul became jealous and attacked David in different ways – he even tried to kill David. David escaped and found people who supported him and helped him to become the king as God intended. Leaving other people out in ways that mean that they have no-one to befriend or support them can be a form of bullying and we are going to	WHAT DID JESUS DO? Luke 19:1-10 Sadly, many pupils will have experienced bullying and be all too familiar with what it feels like to be bullied. Bullying comes in many different forms, including mental, physical and emotional. It could be as simple as ignoring someone in the class just because everybody else does, posting mean comments about someone online, or sharing a joke at someone else's expense. Christians often ask themselves 'What Would Jesus Do?' to decide how they should treat others. The account of an individual whom everyone hated, Zacchaeus the chief tax collector, helps us to see how Jesus treated someone who had become isolated and ostracised. Explore the story as most appropriate: https://freebibleimages.org/photos/luke-mo-zacchaeus/ https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=DdOSWhqQwhw https://www.brf.org.uk/product/nice-and-nasty-jesus-makes-friends-with-zacchaeus/ https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=NpdyvaPSpw When Jesus stepped into this situation, his reaction to Zacchaeus was very different from the reaction of the people of Jericho, the 'crowd' in	WHAT OTHER GOOD EXAMPLES CAN WE FOLLOW? Isaiah 1:17 We all share the responsibility to take action if we witness the bullying of others. Bullies are able to continue because no one challenges what it is they are doing. Here are two people who did not let the 'bullies' win. The story of Malala Yousafzai 'Malala's Magic Pencil' https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=zVgtqDDXWVg (Finish at 6.24 mins) is a story of one Muslim girl's act of defiance, standing up for what she believed was right and good in her community, namely that girls should be allowed to attend school, just like boys. Although her actions met with conflict, and forced her to leave her home in Pakistan, her story ends hopefully, with her influence and voice changing the world and becoming the youngest ever Nobel Peace Prize winner (2014). You can find out more about her life and work here: https://malala.org/ Desmond and the Very Mean Word by Archbishop Desmond Tutu This is a story from this great man's childhood and explores his response to an incident of bullying and how he was helped by the wise words of his friend	Hymns linked to Collective Worship themes	CELEBRATE One Kind Word 'Ask if someone's OK. Say you're sorry. Just say hey'. In a world that can sometimes feel like it's filled with negativity, one kind word can provide a moment of hope. It can be a turning point. It can change someone's perspective. It can change their day. It can change the course of a conversation and break the cycle of bullying. Father God, You have placed Your children in a world where people push and shove to be first. But you have called us to view life from a perspective that considers others to be as important as ourselves. May our love and consideration for others grow and may the example of Jesus guide us as we make decisions that affect others and ourselves. Amen.

I wonder what this might mean for us, today? I wonder what we might learn from Zacchaeus about people who feel isolated and alone? I wonder what we might learn from this story about how easy it is to be a bystander in the crowd? I wonder how Jesus' actions can help us decide how to treat people?	Father Trevor (a number of versions are available on youtube) Lord Jesus Thank you for your example of being kind to all. DAVID AND GOLIATH 1 Samuel 17. Links back to Week 1: Monday I wonder if there has ever been something in your life that feels like a big barrier that you cannot get over or around? I wonder if you ever felt that you needed some sort of shield to protect you from something that was difficult for you? Today's story features an enormous barrier/problem and also shows that we do not always need a real shield for protection if God is on our side. There are many ways to tell the story of David and Goliath – remember that he was simply delivering food to his older and stronger brother who were serving in King Saul's army when he found the courage and the cleverness to face and defeat Goliath. https://www.brf.org.uk/product/david-and-goliath-a-very-loud-story-with-drums-and-percussion/ https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=7zLAcUZkxHA TO 3.30 ONLY https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Bsup35Xitk https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Bsup35Xitk TO 3.45 ONLY This is a classic story about the small guy defeating the bigger guy. I wonder if you have ever given a gift to a friend like a friendship bracelet or made a promise to a friend? I wonder what colour friendship might be? I wonder what makes a best friend and I wonder how friends prove they are friends? Explain that Jonathan (who was the son of King Saul) and David stayed friends all their life, despite enormous pressures and dangers. Saul had become jealous of David and wanted to kill him so David had to run away. As the future king, David needed to know what was happening at court and his trusted friend Jonathan helped him – the story in the Bible passage tells about one way of doing this which was risky and dangerous. You might also have other examples of how far true friends will go to help and support each other. Use some 'speech bubbles' and invite pupils to fill in the missing word or words in the phrase, 'Friendship	Songs for Advent & Christmas	Advent Service in school at 10am Celebrate By looking forward If you have not already, you might want to bring out your Advent wreath and explain how a similar wreath used in many churches leading up to Christmas. He chose to be a better person than Saul, to do the clever thing and the thing that Jesus tells us to do- to turn the other cheek. Through his writings he brings a message of warning to the people of God, because they are not living in the way they should, but he then has a message of comfort for his readers as they go through difficult times. The third part of Isaiah looks forward to the distant future when there will be a new heaven and a new earth. These different voices of the prophet correspond to three different sections of the book, but it is the message of hope that Christians turn to during the season of Advent, as they get ready for the mystery of Christmas. I wonder what you are looking forward to today? I wonder how you have felt when you were waiting for a special day, your birthday, or a wedding? Advent is a time of waiting and anticipation. Show some pictures of familiar cartoon characters, famous people or even wild animals. With talk partners, choose some adjectives that you would use to describe the character e.g. gentle dolphin; fierce tiger; greedy Homer; brave Florence [Nightingale] etc. Light a candle in the dark and think of ways to describe this. Christians believe Jesus is the one they were talking about. Today, we will look at some of the names that the prophet Isaiah used to describe Jesus. You could read the text together and pick out the key names, talking about the adjectives. His name will be Wonderful Counsellor. I wonder what a counsellor does? It is a person who gives advice, helps people to make choices. I wonder what choices you have already made today and what choices you make day by day? Talk about the choices we make. Not just what fruit at snack time, but more difficult choices. What we say to people... If we will help someone.... Sensitively explore some of the more difficult choices the children have made. As we share special times with family and friends, help us to share the light and hope of Jesus with others. AMEN
